Collective Responsibility: Worker Experience Survey

Start of Block: Intro

Q1 Consent for Exempt Research

The Pennsylvania State University

Title of Project: Collective Responsibility
Principal Investigator: Ruth Tillman

Telephone Number: 814-867-1038

You are being invited to volunteer to participate in a research study. This summary explains information about this research.

- The research is being conducted to provide background material for Collective Responsibility: National Forum on Labor Practices for Grant-Funded Digital Positions, funded by the Institute of Museum and Library Studies LG-73-18-0236. The Forum's first meeting focuses on lived realities of grant-funded laborers in the digital work of libraries, archives, and museums and has invited currently and formerly contingent worker participants. The research team conducting the survey, Ruth Kitchin Tillman, Pennsylvania State University Libraries, and Sandy Rodriguez, University of Missouri—Kansas City Libraries, are also the grant's Co-PIs.

- This survey gathers information about both the quantitative and qualitative aspects of working in term-limited positions created through grant funding. The survey will ask respondents to answer questions about their years of work experience and credentialing, about characteristics of the position which they held, about their experiences in holding the position, and about how accepting the position impacted their support structures. Most questions are multiple-choice, with some opportunities for longer clarification and comment.

- Data collected through the survey will be aggregated and used as preparatory and contextual materials for the first meeting, expanding the scope of participation. The multiple-choice data will be published in a white paper written from the meeting and may be published in professional journals, in forum-related spaces, and through the Digital Library Federation's Working Group on Labor in Digital Libraries.

- While participating in a study carries the risk of a loss of confidentiality, the investigators have minimized risk by not collecting IP or other personally identifiable information. The survey does not ask for contact information or information about places of employment. If you have questions or concerns, you should contact Ruth Tillman at 814-867-1038. If you have questions regarding your rights as a research subject or concerns regarding your privacy, you may contact the Penn State Office for Research Protections at IRB-ORP@psu.edu or 814-865-1775, referencing STUDY00010545.

The survey period will begin on November 1, 2018 and end on December 7, 2018. The survey is open to anyone currently or formerly performing digital work in libraries, archives, and museums, whose position is/was term-limited and created using grant-funding. Such work need not be mostly, entirely, or exclusively digital. The term digital is intended to include those such as software developers while not excluding the archivist who creates a non-paper finding aid. It includes both the scanner technician and the museum curator who builds a small site to accompany an exhibit.

The survey should take 20-45 minutes to complete. Respondents may complete the survey multiple times to describe multiple positions and accompanying experiences. You may view a PDF of the survey here: http://laborforum.diglib.org/wp-content/uploads/sites/26/2018/10/Collective_Responsibility_Worker_Experience_Survey.pdf

Your participation is voluntary and you may decide to stop at any time. You do not have to answer any questions that you do not want to answer.

Your participation implies your voluntary consent to participate in the research.
Q2
This survey intends to gather your experiences from a single position. You may retake the survey multiple times to describe multiple positions held.

The following two questions are intended to provide context regarding your experience and credentialing in libraries, archives, and/or museums as you began the position.

Q3 How many years had you worked in libraries, archives, or museums when you started this position? (feel free to indicate full or part-time)

Q41 Did you move for the position?

- Yes (1)
- No (2)

Skip To: End of Survey If Did you move for the position? = No

End of Block: Experiences

Start of Block: Moved

Q42 Characteristics of experiences outside of work When taking a new position (term or full-time) requires a move, it disrupts the worker’s support structures and community. In term positions, the position’s end date may cause additional challenges in developing new relationships. These moves may cause additional harms to those from underrepresented and marginalized communities, who may move to a region in which they become hypervisible or have limited opportunities to develop supportive relationships with other members of their community.

Q45 I moved away from my primary support structures (family members, community, etc.):

- Yes (1)
- No (2)
- N/A (3)

Q46 I already had support structures on whom I could rely in the place where I moved:

- Yes (1)
- No (2)
- N/A (3)
Q47 I was able to find support structures in the place to which I moved:

- Yes (1)
- No (2)
- N/A (3)

Q48 I was able to find identity-related communities of support—whether racial, ethnic, sexual, gender, religious, or similar, in the place to which I moved:

- Yes (1)
- No (2)
- N/A (3)

Q50 The move to a new community affected my sense of safety and belonging in my life outside of work:

- Positively (1)
- Negatively (2)
- N/A (3)

Q51 Please use the following space to write about any experiences you feel comfortable sharing regarding your support structures, sense of safety, and belonging in the community to which you moved:
